DETAILED ACTION

The new drawing (figure 11) and the amended figure 3b, both submitted 09/11/08, have been approved.

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claim 30 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

The instant claim is indefinite since it is void of active steps, i. e., "ing" steps. See Ex parte Kharasch 39USPQ123.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1, 2, 4, 8, 9, 11-13, 15, 16, 19-21 and 31-37 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Schinzel in view of Peltier as applied and for the reasons set forth in the Office action mailed 06/18/08.

Regarding the use of belts and pulleys to translate and rotate the gripper, this arrangement would have been an obvious extension of the use of belts and pulleys in Peltier. Note Peltier locates his actuators on the base.

Art Unit: 3652

Regarding claim 2, the slide in Schinzel is symmetric and could be rotated 180 degrees.

Regarding claims 15, 16 and 33, each actuator in Schinzel as modified by Peltier comprises a shaft and a pulley which meets the transmissions as set forth in these amended claims.

Further regarding claim 16, the systems in Schinzel as modified Peltier would comprise guide pulleys. Note the corner pulleys in Peltier.

Claims 5, 23, 38 and 39 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Schinzel in view of Peltier as applied to claim 1 above, and further in view of Sawada, et al. as applied and for the reasons set forth in the Office action mailed 06/18/08.

Note Sawada uses belts and pulleys to operate his gripper.

Claim 18 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Schinzel in view of Peltier as applied to claim 1 above, and further in view of Burch as applied and for the reasons set forth in the Office action mailed 06/18/08.

Claims 26 and 30 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Schinzel in view of Peltier as applied to claim 1 above, and further in view of Dahlstrom as applied and for the reasons set forth in the Office action mailed 06/18/08.

Claim 27 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Schinzel in view of Peltier as applied to claim 1 above, and further in view of

Fallas as applied and for the reasons set forth in the Office action mailed 06/18/08.

Claims 28 and 29 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Schinzel in view of Peltier and Dahlstrom as applied to claim 26 above, and further in view of Antoszewski, et al. and/or Hashimoto, et al. as applied and for the reasons set forth in the Office action mailed 06/18/08.

Claims 3, 14 and 17 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Applicant's arguments have been carefully considered but are not deemed persuasive. Peltier uses actuators, belts and pulleys to move his arm and slide. The use of a similar arrangement to move the gripper would have been an obvious extension of this teaching. Moreover, sawada uses actuators, belts and pulleys to move his gripper. Thus the use of actuators, belts and pulleys can not form the basis for patentability. The references can not be viewed in vacuum but must be viewed for their collective teachings.

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
